

Introducing
our speakers

UK Computing Summit 2025: Navigating change (surviving and beyond)

Session: Student Chapter Showcase

Florence Noble

Computing Technician

University of Lincoln

Find Florence on LinkedIn here

Florence Noble is a Computing Technician for the School of Engineering and Physical Sciences at the University of Lincoln with a passion for education, technology, and gaming. She also acts as the Academic Advocate for the University of Lincoln Computer Science Society. In this role she advocates for the students as a staff member at the University as well as supporting and facilitating society activities by providing technical expertise, equipment and specialized environments.

